It pays to be healthy. (In more ways than one.)

Healthcare professionals recommend regular health screenings — and for good reason. Screenings make it possible to detect potential medical conditions early on so that you can take the necessary preventive measures to stay healthy.

Now you have another incentive as well: If you are enrolled in accident or critical illness insurance, we'll pay you for keeping up with important screenings. As you'll see in the left column, a wide range of screenings and tests are covered. Once you have the test done, just fill out a brief form and we'll put cash back in your pocket. You'll receive this benefit for one covered test per plan year — with no waiting period.

The Wellness Benefit Claim Form is available to download at LincolnFinancial.com.
